
Deadline 30 June: Apply Now to Improve Your IP Strategy!

Are you:

- Generating high-quality research, and eager to improve its impact on the market?
- Trying to better address IP issues associated with commercialisation?
- Searching for experts who can help you develop a successful intellectual property strategy?

The European Commission is funding a new service to provide specialised, professional IP advice to European universities and public research organisations (PRO). IP Booster provides PROs that have previously received European Commission research funding with free expert support (up to 25k). A range of five services are covered, including an initial IP audit, negotiating technology transfer, patent landscaping, patent and trademark applications, and due diligence. You can apply for all five, or just the ones most relevant for you.

The next deadline for assessment of applications is 30 June, so register here today!
