The nomination period for the European Inventor Award 2020 by the European Patent Office (EPO) is now open: This award is unique in that it honours inventors not only for the genius of their scientific or technological breakthroughs, but also for the impact their invention has on society and the economy, putting a spotlight on the individuals behind the inventions that are changing our lives for the better.

You can help determine who will receive the highly coveted award trophy by nominating an inventor. Simply fill in the nomination form and your inventor could end up on the stage of the prestigious award ceremony.

You can submit your nominations until 30 September 2019.
