The European Patent Office (EPO) in cooperation with the Licensing Executive Society International (LESI) invites business decision-makers in small and medium-sized technology enterprises to join the first edition of the new high-growth technology business forum taking place virtually on 25 February 2021. The forum is organised three times a year, and its geographic focus rotates between Europe, Asia and North America. This first edition focuses on Europe.

CEOs and other members of the C-suite will present live case studies on licensing in a lively presentation and discussion format. In addition, a global expert panel will take the audience on a journey into the inner workings of the success stories being presented, including an in-depth look at the role of intellectual assets. The panel will also provide plenty of practical take-away messages.
